

Art and Design

Apprenticeships: A subject snapshot guide for teachers

What is an apprenticeship?

Apprentices are employed in a job and paid a salary, whilst undertaking training to support the development of their skills. Apprentices will spend at least 20% of their paid time completing 'off-the-job' training where they will be supported by a training provider to achieve their apprenticeship. Apprenticeships are available to anyone over the age of 16, living in England and have no upper age limit. To find more please visit the government website:

<https://www.apprenticeships.gov.uk/apprentices/becoming-apprentice>

Which apprenticeships are there?

Art and Design links to lots of apprenticeships because so many jobs require an individual to be creative and to use light and colour to engage their customers. Some of the more obvious job roles might be in art galleries or museums, but have you also thought about how it might link to other jobs like digital marketing, beauty and make-up, architecture, broadcasting and community arts?

Which apprenticeship employers are there?

There are lots of employers offering apprenticeships that link to Art and Design. Some of the biggest names you might recognise are:

To find out more about the range of apprenticeship employers, which apprenticeships they offer, when they recruit and what the recruitment process will be like, please visit:

<https://amazingapprenticeships.com/vacancies>

What kind of apprenticeship job roles are there?

You could be working in a wide range of apprenticeship job roles that involve Art and Design, including;

- Cultural Learning and Participation Officer
- Junior 2D Artist (Visual Effects)
- Furniture Design Technician
- Art Therapist
- Fashion Studio Assistant
- Floristry
- Photographic Assistant
- Puppet Maker

And many more!

Download this poster

Display this poster in your classroom to inspire students to think about how Art and Design could link to an apprenticeship.

amazingapprenticeships.com/resource/where-can-art-design-take-you

Art and Design

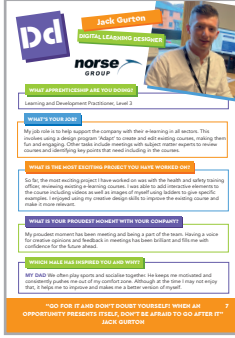

Apprenticeships: A subject snapshot guide for teachers

Where can I find out more?

Case study 1
Meet Halimah Awan, a Technology Associate apprentice at Accenture, to hear more about her role:

<https://amazingapprenticeships.com/iwd2020>

Case study 2
Meet Jack Gurton, a Digital Learning Designer apprentice at Norse Group, to hear more about his role:

<https://amazingapprenticeships.com/imd>

Explore the exciting range of apprenticeship opportunities

To find out more about the range of apprenticeship employers, which apprenticeships they offer, when they recruit and what the recruitment process will be like, please visit: <https://amazingapprenticeships.com/vacancies>

Sign up to stay informed

To keep informed of the latest apprenticeship resources and news, sign up to the monthly Amazing Apprenticeships newsletter completely free of charge: <https://amazingapprenticeships.com/newsletter>

Business Studies

Apprenticeships: A subject snapshot guide for teachers

What is an apprenticeship?

Apprentices are employed in a job and paid a salary, whilst undertaking training to support the development of their skills. Apprentices will spend at least 20% of their paid time completing 'off-the-job' training where they will be supported by a training provider to achieve their apprenticeship. Apprenticeships are available to anyone over the age of 16, living in England and have no upper age limit. To find more please visit the government website:

<https://www.apprenticeships.gov.uk/apprentices/becoming-apprentice>

Which apprenticeships are there?

Business Studies links to lots of apprenticeships because so many job roles require an individual to support the organisation of a company and help it run effectively. Some of the more obvious job roles might be Business Administrator or Team Leader. But have you also thought about how Business Studies might link to other jobs like Data Analyst, Project Manager, HR Consultant, Chartered Legal Executive, Junior Estate Agent, Licensed Conveyancer and Solicitor?

Which apprenticeship employers are there?

There are lots of employers offering apprenticeships that link to Business Studies. Some of the biggest names you might recognise are:

To find out more about the range of apprenticeship employers, which apprenticeships they offer, when they recruit and what the recruitment process will be like, please visit:

<https://amazingapprenticeships.com/vacancies>

What kind of apprenticeship job roles are there?

You could be working in a wide range of apprenticeship job roles that involve Business Studies, including;

- Assistant Buyer
- Chartered Accountant
- Data Analyst / Data Scientist
- Supply Chain Manager
- Forensic Accountant
- Sustainability Business Specialist
- Project Manager
- Insurance Underwriter

And many more!

Download this poster

Display this poster in your classroom to inspire students to think about how Business Studies could link to an apprenticeship.

amazingapprenticeships.com/resource/where-can-business-studies-take-you

Business Studies

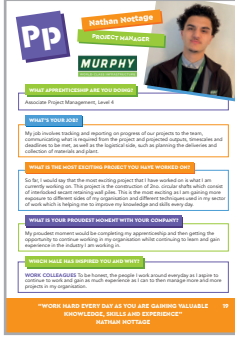

Apprenticeships: A subject snapshot guide for teachers

Where can I find out more?

Case study 1
Meet Helen Connell, a Business Analyst apprentice at Bentley, to hear more about her role:

<https://amazingapprenticeships.com/iwd2020>

Case study 2
Meet Nathan Nottage, a Project Manager apprentice at Murphy, to hear more about his role:

<https://amazingapprenticeships.com/imd>

Explore the exciting range of apprenticeship opportunities

To find out more about the range of apprenticeship employers, which apprenticeships they offer, when they recruit and what the recruitment process will be like, please visit: <https://amazingapprenticeships.com/vacancies>

Sign up to stay informed

To keep informed of the latest apprenticeship resources and news, sign up to the monthly Amazing Apprenticeships newsletter completely free of charge: <https://amazingapprenticeships.com/newsletter>

Drama and Music

Apprenticeships: A subject snapshot guide for teachers

What is an apprenticeship?

Apprentices are employed in a job and paid a salary, whilst undertaking training to support the development of their skills. Apprentices will spend at least 20% of their paid time completing 'off-the-job' training where they will be supported by a training provider to achieve their apprenticeship. Apprenticeships are available to anyone over the age of 16, living in England and have no upper age limit. To find more please visit the government website:

<https://www.apprenticeships.gov.uk/apprentices/becoming-apprentice>

Which apprenticeships are there?

Drama and Music link to lots of apprenticeships because so many jobs require an individual to have confidence, teamwork and collaboration skills, time management and self-discipline. Some of the more obvious job roles might be Recording Engineer and Broadcast Production Assistant, but have you also thought about how it might link to other jobs like Community Arts Administrator, Broadcast Technology, Live Event Rigger, Creative Venue Technician and Junior Journalist?

Which apprenticeship employers are there?

There are lots of employers offering apprenticeships that link to Drama and Music. Some of the biggest names you might recognise are:

The Telegraph

To find out more about the range of apprenticeship employers, which apprenticeships they offer, when they recruit and what the recruitment process will be like, please visit:

<https://amazingapprenticeships.com/vacancies>

What kind of apprenticeship job roles are there?

You could be working in a wide range of apprenticeship job roles that involve Drama and Music, including;

- Arts Therapist
- Live Event Rigger
- Event Assistant
- Creative Venue Technician
- Assistant Puppet Maker
- Publishing Assistant
- Acoustics Technician
- Assistant Technical Director (visual effects)

And many more!

Download this poster

Display this poster in your classroom to inspire students to think about how Drama or Music could link to an apprenticeship.

amazingapprenticeships.com/resource/where-can-drama-and-music-take-you

Drama and Music

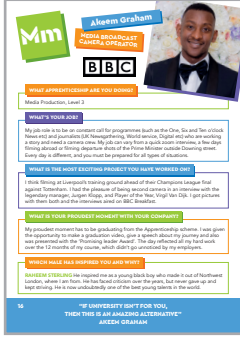

Apprenticeships: A subject snapshot guide for teachers

Where can I find out more?

Case study 1
Meet Maddy Morrison, a Sports Journalist apprentice at Sky, to hear more about her role:

<https://amazingapprenticeships.com/iwd2020>

Case study 2
Meet Akeem Graham, a Media Broadcast Camera Operator apprentice at BBC, to hear more about his role:

<https://amazingapprenticeships.com/imd>

Explore the exciting range of apprenticeship opportunities

To find out more about the range of apprenticeship employers, which apprenticeships they offer, when they recruit and what the recruitment process will be like, please visit: <https://amazingapprenticeships.com/vacancies>

Sign up to stay informed

To keep informed of the latest apprenticeship resources and news, sign up to the monthly Amazing Apprenticeships newsletter completely free of charge: <https://amazingapprenticeships.com/newsletter>

English

Apprenticeships: A subject snapshot guide for teachers

What is an apprenticeship?

Apprentices are employed in a job and paid a salary, whilst undertaking training to support the development of their skills. Apprentices will spend at least 20% of their paid time completing 'off-the-job' training where they will be supported by a training provider to achieve their apprenticeship. Apprenticeships are available to anyone over the age of 16, living in England and have no upper age limit. To find more please visit the government website:

<https://www.apprenticeships.gov.uk/apprentices/becoming-apprentice>

Which apprenticeships are there?

English links to lots of apprenticeships because so many job roles require an individual to think independently, to write and speak well, to write reports, to present information effectively and to work as part of a team. Some of the more obvious job roles might be Journalist or English Teacher, but have you also thought about how it might link to other jobs like Media and Advertising, Policing, Publishing Assistant and Air Traffic Controller?

Which apprenticeship employers are there?

There are lots of employers offering apprenticeships that link to English. Some of the biggest names you might recognise are:

To find out more about the range of apprenticeship employers, which apprenticeships they offer, when they recruit and what the recruitment process will be like, please visit:

<https://amazingapprenticeships.com/vacancies>

What kind of apprenticeship job roles are there?

You could be working in a wide range of apprenticeship job roles that involve English, including;

- Journalist
- Broadcast Systems Operator
- Public Relations Assistant
- Speech & Language Therapist
- Advanced Clinical Practitioner
- Publishing Assistant
- Customer Services Practitioner
- Advertising and Media Executive

And many more!

Download this poster

Display this poster in your classroom to inspire students to think about how English could link to an apprenticeship.

amazingapprenticeships.com/resource/where-can-english-take-you

English

Apprenticeships: A subject snapshot guide for teachers

Where can I find out more?

Case study 1
Meet April Madden, a Group Manager apprentice at LGH, to hear more about her role:

<https://amazingapprenticeships.com/iwd2020>

Case study 2
Meet David Chipakupaku, a Journalist apprentice at Sky News, to hear more about his role:

<https://amazingapprenticeships.com/imd>

Explore the exciting range of apprenticeship opportunities

To find out more about the range of apprenticeship employers, which apprenticeships they offer, when they recruit and what the recruitment process will be like, please visit: <https://amazingapprenticeships.com/vacancies>

Sign up to stay informed

To keep informed of the latest apprenticeship resources and news, sign up to the monthly Amazing Apprenticeships newsletter completely free of charge: <https://amazingapprenticeships.com/newsletter>

Food and Nutrition

Apprenticeships: A subject snapshot guide for teachers

What is an apprenticeship?

Apprentices are employed in a job and paid a salary, whilst undertaking training to support the development of their skills. Apprentices will spend at least 20% of their paid time completing 'off-the-job' training where they will be supported by a training provider to achieve their apprenticeship. Apprenticeships are available to anyone over the age of 16, living in England and have no upper age limit. To find more please visit the government website:

<https://www.apprenticeships.gov.uk/apprentices/becoming-apprentice>

Which apprenticeships are there?

Food and Nutrition links to lots of apprenticeships because so many jobs in the food industry require the safe manufacturing of food and the smooth running of the production line. Some of the more obvious job roles might be Butcher or Chef, but have you also thought about how it might link to other jobs like Agriculture Manager, Crop Technician, Food and Drink Maintenance Engineer and Food Technologist?

Which apprenticeship employers are there?

There are lots of employers offering apprenticeships that link to Food and Nutrition. Some of the biggest names you might recognise are:

To find out more about the range of apprenticeship employers, which apprenticeships they offer, when they recruit and what the recruitment process will be like, please visit:

<https://amazingapprenticeships.com/vacancies>

What kind of apprenticeship job roles are there?

You could be working in a wide range of apprenticeship job roles that involve Food and Nutrition, including;

- Dietitian
- Food Technologist
- Fishmonger
- Senior Production Chef
- Food and Drink Engineer
- Commis Chef / Chef De Partie
- Butcher
- Hospitality Team Member / Leader

And many more!

Download this poster

Display this poster in your classroom to inspire students to think about how Food and Nutrition could link to an apprenticeship.

amazingapprenticeships.com/resource/where-can-food-technology-take-you

Food and Nutrition

Apprenticeships: A subject snapshot guide for teachers

Where can I find out more?

Case study 1
Meet Bridie Lavender, a Head Chef apprentice at Marston's, to hear more about her role:

<https://amazingapprenticeships.com/iwd2020>

Case study 2
Meet Declan Vaughan, a Bakery Engineering Technician apprentice at Hovis, to hear more about his role:

<https://amazingapprenticeships.com/imd>

Explore the exciting range of apprenticeship opportunities

To find out more about the range of apprenticeship employers, which apprenticeships they offer, when they recruit and what the recruitment process will be like, please visit: <https://amazingapprenticeships.com/vacancies>

Sign up to stay informed

To keep informed of the latest apprenticeship resources and news, sign up to the monthly Amazing Apprenticeships newsletter completely free of charge: <https://amazingapprenticeships.com/newsletter>

Geography

Apprenticeships: A subject snapshot guide for teachers

What is an apprenticeship?

Apprentices are employed in a job and paid a salary, whilst undertaking training to support the development of their skills. Apprentices will spend at least 20% of their paid time completing 'off-the-job' training where they will be supported by a training provider to achieve their apprenticeship. Apprenticeships are available to anyone over the age of 16, living in England and have no upper age limit. To find more please visit the government website:

<https://www.apprenticeships.gov.uk/apprentices/becoming-apprentice>

Which apprenticeships are there?

Geography links to lots of apprenticeships because many job roles are linked to current issues such as climate change, conservation and tourism. Some of the more obvious job roles might be Environmental Practitioner and Agriculture Manager, but have you also thought about how it might link to other jobs like Cabin Crew, Forest Operative, Geospatial Mapping and Science, Golf Greenkeeper and Maritime Occupations?

Which apprenticeship employers are there?

There are lots of employers offering apprenticeships that link to Geography. Some of the biggest names you might recognise are:

To find out more about the range of apprenticeship employers, which apprenticeships they offer, when they recruit and what the recruitment process will be like, please visit:

<https://amazingapprenticeships.com/vacancies>

What kind of apprenticeship job roles are there?

You could be working in a wide range of apprenticeship job roles that involve Geography, including;

- Chartered Town Planner
- Geospatial Mapping Technician
- Historic Environment Advice Assistant
- Crop Technician
- Ecologist
- Forest Operative
- Nuclear Scientist & Nuclear Engineer
- Transport Planner

And many more!

Download this poster

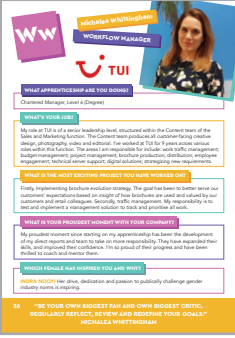

Display this poster in your classroom to inspire students to think about how Geography could link to an apprenticeship. amazingapprenticeships.com/resource/where-can-geography-take-you

Geography

Apprenticeships: A subject snapshot guide for teachers

Where can I find out more?

Case study 1
Meet Michalea Whittingham, a Workflow Manager apprentice at Tui, to hear more about her role:

<https://amazingapprenticeships.com/iwd2020>

Case study 2
Meet George Herritts, a Cabin Crew apprentice at EasyJet, to hear more about his role:

<https://amazingapprenticeships.com/imd>

Explore the exciting range of apprenticeship opportunities

To find out more about the range of apprenticeship employers, which apprenticeships they offer, when they recruit and what the recruitment process will be like, please visit: <https://amazingapprenticeships.com/vacancies>

Sign up to stay informed

To keep informed of the latest apprenticeship resources and news, sign up to the monthly Amazing Apprenticeships newsletter completely free of charge: <https://amazingapprenticeships.com/newsletter>

History

Apprenticeships: A subject snapshot guide for teachers

What is an apprenticeship?

Apprentices are employed in a job and paid a salary, whilst undertaking training to support the development of their skills. Apprentices will spend at least 20% of their paid time completing 'off-the-job' training where they will be supported by a training provider to achieve their apprenticeship. Apprenticeships are available to anyone over the age of 16, living in England and have no upper age limit. To find more please visit the government website:

<https://www.apprenticeships.gov.uk/apprentices/becoming-apprentice>

Which apprenticeships are there?

History links to lots of apprenticeships because so many job roles require critical reasoning, analytical skills and the opportunity to reflect on past theories and practice. Some of the more obvious job roles might be Paralegal and Heritage Engineering Technician. But have you also thought about how it might link to other jobs like Conveyancing Technician, Cultural and Heritage Venue Operations and Vehicle Restoration?

Which apprenticeship employers are there?

There are lots of employers offering apprenticeships that link to History. Some of the biggest names you might recognise are:

To find out more about the range of apprenticeship employers, which apprenticeships they offer, when they recruit and what the recruitment process will be like, please visit:

<https://amazingapprenticeships.com/vacancies>

What kind of apprenticeship job roles are there?

You could be working in a wide range of apprenticeship job roles that involve History, including;

- Archaeological Specialist
- Cultural Heritage Conservator
- Historic Environment Advice Assistant
- Cultural Learning and Participation Officer
- Solicitor
- Journalist
- Museums & Galleries Technician
- Library, Information and Archive Services

And many more!

Download this poster

Display this poster in your classroom to inspire students to think about how History could link to an apprenticeship.

amazingapprenticeships.com/resource/where-can-history-take-you

History

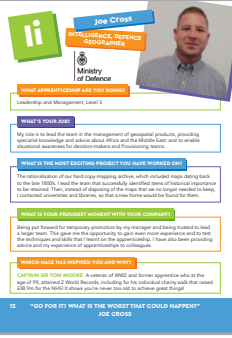

Apprenticeships: A subject snapshot guide for teachers

Where can I find out more?

Case study 1
Meet Samantha Ross, a Solicitor apprentice at Bevan Brittan, to hear more about her role:

<https://amazingapprenticeships.com/iwd2020>

Case study 2
Meet Joe Cross, an Intelligence Defence Geographer apprentice at Ministry of Defence, to hear more about his role:

<https://amazingapprenticeships.com/imd>

Explore the exciting range of apprenticeship opportunities

To find out more about the range of apprenticeship employers, which apprenticeships they offer, when they recruit and what the recruitment process will be like, please visit: <https://amazingapprenticeships.com/vacancies>

Sign up to stay informed

To keep informed of the latest apprenticeship resources and news, sign up to the monthly Amazing Apprenticeships newsletter completely free of charge: <https://amazingapprenticeships.com/newsletter>

Information and Communication Technologies (ICT)

Apprenticeships: A subject snapshot guide for teachers

What is an apprenticeship?

Apprentices are employed in a job and paid a salary, whilst undertaking training to support the development of their skills. Apprentices will spend at least 20% of their paid time completing 'off-the-job' training where they will be supported by a training provider to achieve their apprenticeship. Apprenticeships are available to anyone over the age of 16, living in England and have no upper age limit. To find more please visit the government website:

<https://www.apprenticeships.gov.uk/apprentices/becoming-apprentice>

Which apprenticeships are there?

ICT links to lots of apprenticeships because so many job roles require an individual to interpret and evaluate data and to cope with the rapid changes of technology. Some of the more obvious job roles might be ICT Technician or Cyber Security Technologist, but have you also thought about how it might link to other jobs like Design, Digital Engineering, Intelligence Operations, Software Developer and Transport Planner?

Which apprenticeship employers are there?

There are lots of employers offering apprenticeships that link to ICT. Some of the biggest names you might recognise are:

To find out more about the range of apprenticeship employers, which apprenticeships they offer, when they recruit and what the recruitment process will be like, please visit:

<https://amazingapprenticeships.com/vacancies>

What kind of apprenticeship job roles are there?

You could be working in a wide range of apprenticeship job roles that involve Computing and ICT, including;

- Cyber Security Technologist
- Digital & Technology Solutions
- IT Solutions Technician
- Software Developer
- Unified Communications Technician
- Infrastructure Technician
- Digital Community Manager
- Science Industry Plant Engineer

And many more!

Download this poster

Display this poster in your classroom to inspire students to think about how ICT could link to an apprenticeship.

amazingapprenticeships.com/resource/where-can-ict-take-you

Information and Communication Technologies (ICT)

Apprenticeships: A subject snapshot guide for teachers

Where can I find out more?

Case study 1
Meet Hollie Boxall, a Unified Communications Technician apprentice at Equity, to hear more about her role:

<https://amazingapprenticeships.com/iwd2020>

Case study 2
Meet Ben O'Connor, a Software Developer apprentice at Bentley, to hear more about his role:

<https://amazingapprenticeships.com/imd>

Explore the exciting range of apprenticeship opportunities

To find out more about the range of apprenticeship employers, which apprenticeships they offer, when they recruit and what the recruitment process will be like, please visit: <https://amazingapprenticeships.com/vacancies>

Sign up to stay informed

To keep informed of the latest apprenticeship resources and news, sign up to the monthly Amazing Apprenticeships newsletter completely free of charge: <https://amazingapprenticeships.com/newsletter>

Languages

Apprenticeships: A subject snapshot guide for teachers

What is an apprenticeship?

Apprentices are employed in a job and paid a salary, whilst undertaking training to support the development of their skills. Apprentices will spend at least 20% of their paid time completing 'off-the-job' training where they will be supported by a training provider to achieve their apprenticeship. Apprenticeships are available to anyone over the age of 16, living in England and have no upper age limit. To find more please visit the government website:

<https://www.apprenticeships.gov.uk/apprentices/becoming-apprentice>

Which apprenticeships are there?

Languages link to lots of apprenticeships because many job roles require individuals to be able to communicate with individuals who speak a different language, both within their own company and with external customers. Some of the more obvious job roles might be Language Teacher or a Journalist. But have you also thought about how it might link to other jobs like Cabin Crew, Marketing Executive and International Freight Forwarding Specialist?

Which apprenticeship employers are there?

There are lots of employers offering apprenticeships that link to Languages. Some of the biggest names you might recognise are:

YOUR LONDON AIRPORT
Gatwick

To find out more about the range of apprenticeship employers, which apprenticeships they offer, when they recruit and what the recruitment process will be like, please visit:

<https://amazingapprenticeships.com/vacancies>

What kind of apprenticeship job roles are there?

You could be working in a wide range of apprenticeship job roles that involve Languages, including;

- Travel Consultant
- Transport Planner
- Heritage Engineering Technician
- Cabin Crew
- Air Traffic Controller
- International Freight Forwarding Specialist
- Commercial Procurement and Supply
- Aviation Operations Manager

And many more!

Download this poster

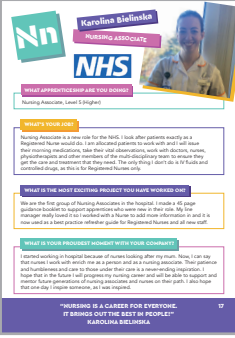

Display this poster in your classroom to inspire students to think about how Languages could link to an apprenticeship.

amazingapprenticeships.com/resource/where-can-languages-take-you

Languages

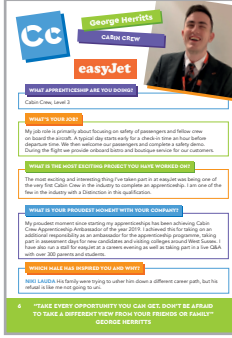

Apprenticeships: A subject snapshot guide for teachers

Where can I find out more?

Case study 1
Meet Karolina Bielinska, a Nursing Associate apprentice at NHS, to hear more about her role:

<https://amazingapprenticeships.com/iwd2020>

Case study 2
Meet George Herritts, a Cabin Crew apprentice at EasyJet, to hear more about his role:

<https://amazingapprenticeships.com/imd>

Explore the exciting range of apprenticeship opportunities

To find out more about the range of apprenticeship employers, which apprenticeships they offer, when they recruit and what the recruitment process will be like, please visit: <https://amazingapprenticeships.com/vacancies>

Sign up to stay informed

To keep informed of the latest apprenticeship resources and news, sign up to the monthly Amazing Apprenticeships newsletter completely free of charge: <https://amazingapprenticeships.com/newsletter>

Maths

Apprenticeships: A subject snapshot guide for teachers

What is an apprenticeship?

Apprentices are employed in a job and paid a salary, whilst undertaking training to support the development of their skills. Apprentices will spend at least 20% of their paid time completing 'off-the-job' training where they will be supported by a training provider to achieve their apprenticeship. Apprenticeships are available to anyone over the age of 16, living in England and have no upper age limit. To find more please visit the government website:

<https://www.apprenticeships.gov.uk/apprentices/becoming-apprentice>

Which apprenticeships are there?

Maths links to lots of apprenticeships because so many jobs require an individual to and to have good problem solving skills and to be able to identify patterns or problems with data. Some of the more obvious job roles might be Economist or Accountant, but have you also thought about how it might link to other jobs like Data Scientist, Ecologist, Early Years Educator, Engineer, Financial Adviser and First Officer Pilot?

Which apprenticeship employers are there?

There are lots of employers offering apprenticeships that link to Maths. Some of the biggest names you might recognise are:

To find out more about the range of apprenticeship employers, which apprenticeships they offer, when they recruit and what the recruitment process will be like, please visit:

<https://amazingapprenticeships.com/vacancies>

What kind of apprenticeship job roles are there?

You could be working in a wide range of apprenticeship job roles that involve Maths, including;

- Accountant
- Quantity Surveyor
- Professional Economist
- Cyber Security Technologist
- Aerospace Engineer
- Architect
- Bioinformatics Scientist
- Geospatial Mapping Specialist

And many more!

Download this poster

Display this poster in your classroom to inspire students to think about how Maths could link to an apprenticeship.

amazingapprenticeships.com/resource/where-can-maths-take-you

Maths

Apprenticeships: A subject snapshot guide for teachers

Where can I find out more?

Case study 1
Meet Esther O, an Auditor apprentice at KPMG, to hear more about her role:

<https://amazingapprenticeships.com/iwd2020>

Case study 2
Meet Jordan Brosnan, an Engineer Reliability apprentice at Coca-Cola, to hear more about his role:

<https://amazingapprenticeships.com/imd>

Explore the exciting range of apprenticeship opportunities

To find out more about the range of apprenticeship employers, which apprenticeships they offer, when they recruit and what the recruitment process will be like, please visit: <https://amazingapprenticeships.com/vacancies>

Sign up to stay informed

To keep informed of the latest apprenticeship resources and news, sign up to the monthly Amazing Apprenticeships newsletter completely free of charge: <https://amazingapprenticeships.com/newsletter>

Physical Education (PE)

Apprenticeships: A subject snapshot guide for teachers

What is an apprenticeship?

Apprentices are employed in a job and paid a salary, whilst undertaking training to support the development of their skills. Apprentices will spend at least 20% of their paid time completing 'off-the-job' training where they will be supported by a training provider to achieve their apprenticeship. Apprenticeships are available to anyone over the age of 16, living in England and have no upper age limit. To find more please visit the government website:

<https://www.apprenticeships.gov.uk/apprentices/becoming-apprentice>

Which apprenticeships are there?

Physical Education (PE) links to lots of apprenticeships because so many job roles require an individual to have excellent team work skills and communication. Some of the more obvious job roles might be working as a PE Teacher or within a Leisure Centre, but have you also thought about how it might link to other jobs like Operational Firefighter, Policing, Senior Equine Groom, Youth Worker and HM Forces?

Which apprenticeship employers are there?

There are lots of employers offering apprenticeships that link to Physical Education. Some of the biggest names you might recognise are:

To find out more about the range of apprenticeship employers, which apprenticeships they offer, when they recruit and what the recruitment process will be like, please visit:

<https://amazingapprenticeships.com/vacancies>

What kind of apprenticeship job roles are there?

You could be working in a wide range of apprenticeship job roles that involve Physical Education, including;

- Community Sport & Health Officer
- Sports Turf Operative
- Personal Trainer
- Events Assistant
- Physiotherapist
- Outdoor Activity Instructor
- Sporting Excellence Professional
- Teaching Assistant / Teacher

And many more!

Download this poster

Display this poster in your classroom to inspire students to think about how Physical Education could link to an apprenticeship.

amazingapprenticeships.com/resource/where-can-pe-take-you

Physical Education (PE)

Apprenticeships: A subject snapshot guide for teachers

Where can I find out more?

Case study 1
Meet Maddy Morrison, a Sports Journalist apprentice at Sky, to hear more about her role:

<https://amazingapprenticeships.com/iwd2020>

Case study 2
Meet Connor Moir, a Firefighter apprentice at County Durham and Darlington Fire and Rescue, to hear more about his role:

<https://amazingapprenticeships.com/imd>

Explore the exciting range of apprenticeship opportunities

To find out more about the range of apprenticeship employers, which apprenticeships they offer, when they recruit and what the recruitment process will be like, please visit: <https://amazingapprenticeships.com/vacancies>

Sign up to stay informed

To keep informed of the latest apprenticeship resources and news, sign up to the monthly Amazing Apprenticeships newsletter completely free of charge: <https://amazingapprenticeships.com/newsletter>

Science

Apprenticeships: A subject snapshot guide for teachers

What is an apprenticeship?

Apprentices are employed in a job and paid a salary, whilst undertaking training to support the development of their skills. Apprentices will spend at least 20% of their paid time completing 'off-the-job' training where they will be supported by a training provider to achieve their apprenticeship. Apprenticeships are available to anyone over the age of 16, living in England and have no upper age limit. To find more please visit the government website:

www.apprenticeships.gov.uk/apprentices/becoming-apprentice

Which apprenticeships are there?

Science links to lots of apprenticeships because so many jobs require an individual to have skills such as analytical thinking, problem solving and team working. Some of the more obvious job roles might be a Paramedic and Laboratory Scientist, but have you also thought about how it might link to other jobs like Aerospace engineer, Animal Care, Forensic Practitioner, Nursing and Rail Engineering Technician?

Which apprenticeship employers are there?

There are lots of employers offering apprenticeships that link to Science. Some of the biggest names you might recognise are:

To find out more about the range of apprenticeship employers, which apprenticeships they offer, when they recruit and what the recruitment process will be like, please visit:

<https://amazingapprenticeships.com/vacancies>

What kind of apprenticeship job roles are there?

You could be working in a wide range of apprenticeship job roles that involve Science, including;

- Healthcare Science Associate
- Food Scientist
- Ecologist
- Forensic Scientist
- Pharmacy Technician
- Geospatial Mapping Specialist
- Acoustics Technician
- Non-Destructive Testing Engineer

And many more!

Download this poster

Display this poster in your classroom to inspire students to think about how Science could link to an apprenticeship.

amazingapprenticeships.com/resource/where-can-science-take-you

Science

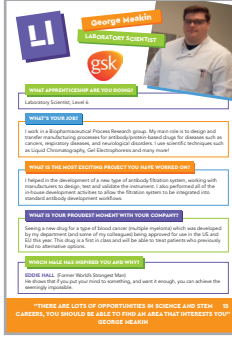

Apprenticeships: A subject snapshot guide for teachers

Where can I find out more?

Case study 1
Meet Henna Basharat, a Lab Technician apprentice at Specsavers, to hear more about her role:

<https://amazingapprenticeships.com/iwd2020>

Case study 2
Meet George Meakin, a Laboratory Scientist apprentice at GSK, to hear more about his role:

<https://amazingapprenticeships.com/ind>

Explore the exciting range of apprenticeship opportunities

To find out more about the range of apprenticeship employers, which apprenticeships they offer, when they recruit and what the recruitment process will be like, please visit: <https://amazingapprenticeships.com/vacancies>

Sign up to stay informed

To keep informed of the latest apprenticeship resources and news, sign up to the monthly Amazing Apprenticeships newsletter completely free of charge: <https://amazingapprenticeships.com/newsletter>