Introduction

When applying for a position at Uppingham Community College, as an organisation we are the Data Controller. That means we have a statutory responsibility to explain how we collect, manage, use and store information about applicants.

You have a right to be informed about how the college uses any personal data that we collect about you. This privacy notice, and our Data Protection Policy, explains our data usage when you apply for a job with us.

1. What information do we collect?

Personal data that we may collect, use, store and share (when appropriate) about you includes, but is not restricted to:

- name, address and contact details, including email address and telephone number;
- copies of right to work documentation;
- references;
- evidence of qualifications;
- information about your current role, level of remuneration, including benefit entitlements;
- employment records, including work history, job titles, training records and professional memberships.

We may also request and collect, use, store and share (when appropriate) information about you that falls into "special categories" of more sensitive personal data. This includes, but is not restricted to:

- information about race, ethnicity, religious beliefs, sexual orientation and political opinions;
- whether or not you have a disability for which the college needs to make reasonable adjustments during the recruitment process;
- photographs and CCTV images captured in the college.

We may also collect, use, store and share (when appropriate) information about criminal convictions and offences.

We may also hold data about you that we have received from other organisations, including other schools and social services, and the Disclosure and Barring Service in respect of criminal offence data.

Every school has statutory obligations that are set out in 'Keeping Children Safe in Education' and other guidance and regulations.

2. Why we use this data?

The college needs to process data to take steps at your request prior to entering into a contract with you. It may also need to process your data to enter into a contract with you.

The college needs to process data to ensure that it is complying with its legal obligations. For example, it is required to check a successful applicant's eligibility to work in the UK before employment starts.

The college has a legitimate interest in processing personal data during the recruitment process and for keeping records of the process. Processing data from job applicants allows the college to manage the recruitment process, assess and confirm a candidate's suitability for employment and decide to whom to offer a job. The college may also need to process data from job applicants to respond to and defend against legal claims.

The college may process information about whether or not applicants are disabled to make reasonable adjustments for candidates who have a disability. This is to carry out its obligations and exercise specific rights in relation to employment.

Where the college processes other special categories of data, such as information about ethnic origin, sexual orientation, disability or religion or belief, this is for equal opportunities monitoring purposes.

For some roles, the college is obliged to seek information about criminal convictions and offences. Where the college seeks this information, it does so because it is necessary for it to carry out its obligations and exercise specific rights in relation to employment.

The college will not use your data for any purpose other than the recruitment exercise for which you have applied.

3. How do we use the data?

Your information may be shared internally for the purposes of the recruitment exercise. This includes members of the HR and recruitment team, shortlisting and interview panel members involved in the recruitment process (this may include external panel members), and IT staff if access to the data is necessary for the performance of their roles.

The college will not share your data with third parties, unless your application for employment is successful and it makes you an offer of employment. As well as circulating your application and related materials to the appropriate staff at the college, we will share your personal information for the above purposes as relevant and necessary with:

- your referees;
- Disclosure & Barring Service (DBS) in order to administer relevant recruitment checks and procedures;
- UK Visas & Immigration (UKVI) in order to administer relevant recruitment checks and procedures;
- where relevant and as required for some posts, the Teacher Regulation Authority checks.

Where you have provided us with consent to use your data, you may withdraw this consent at any time. We will make this clear when requesting your consent, and explain how you would go about withdrawing consent if you wish to do so.

4. Automated Decision Making and Profiling

We do not currently process any personal data through automated decision making or profiling. If this changes in the future, we will amend any relevant privacy notices in order to explain the processing to you, including your right to object to it.
